Keeley Park, Clayton South playground & park upgrade

As part of City of Kingston's commitment to improving open spaces, a draft concept plan has been prepared for park and playground upgrades at Keeley Park, Clayton South.

In 2013, a master plan was developed in conjunction with community to guide future improvements to Keeley Park. Using the master plan as a base, we have developed a draft concept plan that creates a range of formal and informal spaces for community use.

The draft concept plan incorporates the following elements:

- Fitness area around the existing basketball half court with pull up bars, monkey bars, parallel bars, sit up bench, step ups, push up bars, seating and landscaping.
- Social gathering space for the local community including a new regional shelter, BBQs, picnic tables, drinking fountain, waste bins and flexible lawn area.
- Expanded playground space that features a new large climbing net with slide, flying fox, basket swing, UFO spinner, wave runner boat, swan rockers, agility board, log steppers, and traversing 'river boats'.
- Natural play elements such as hand water pump, dry creek beds, sand play, and traversable rocks and logs to create sensory experiences for children.
- Improved fencing and new footpaths to improve accessibility within the park
- Tree and garden bed planting to provide shade and improve the park appearance. (including selected tree removal works).

Construction timeframes

Following the public consultation process, the design will be modified to reflect the community's feedback. It is anticipated that works will take place in Autumn 2017.
